

SERVICE AWARD

Nancy Winkler

Within the organization, certain stalwart law firms and individuals stand out, not only for their financial support to PaAJ's mission, but also for the extraordinary commitment these members make in terms of time and energy. There are many who come to mind all across the state and space prevents us from listing them all here. Nancy Winkler of Philadelphia is one trial attorney and PaAJ member who stands out this year. Nancy is continuing her law firm's great tradition of service to the Pennsylvania Association for Justice.

Nancy has been a member of PaAJ since 1987 and has served on the Association's Board of Governors since 2001. Over this time, she has made significant contributions to the association.

This marks the third year that Nancy had served as LAW PAC Chair. She was also successful as fundraising coordinator for the Philadelphia Trial Lawyers PAC, Committee for a Better Tomorrow. Each year including this year, Nancy has worked hard to keep LAW PAC on a steady course. The results from the last election are testament to Lawpac's relevance. The continued strength of LAW PAC even in this tough economy is a reflection of Nancy's success as Chair. Nancy's efforts go a long way in preserving the rights of Pennsylvania's citizens.

Nancy has also played an important role in fostering PaAJ's relationship with PTLA. Her help has also been valuable as a past member of PaAJ's Membership and Education Committees as well as co-authoring Pennsylvania Automobile Litigation: Guidelines & Forms, which is published by PaAJ.

For all of her efforts this year, PaAJ is honored to present Nancy with its special Service Award at this year's Convention.
